A Delicate Operation.

Last Monday Dr. G. W. Smith removed the left eye of Mr. C. Wilson, of this city. He was assisted in the operation by Mrs. G. F. Degen and Drs. Bailey and Daily. While in the service of the United States in 1861 Mr. Wilson received a gun-shot wound which destroyed his left eye. It has been a source of pain to him ever since. After the excision of the injured member it was discovered that the lens and choroid had become ossified. This, by sympathy, was affecting his sound eye. Mr. Wilson is doing well, and is recovering from the effects of the operation.
